

Corflu Cobalt T-Shirts

Corflu Cobalt has continued the long tradition of producing a Corflu commemorative T-shirt – in fact, we did two! Based on a cartoon by Harry Bell encased in a design by Graham Charnock, the Arthurian knight links us to our host city of Winchester, and his beanie and cheerful greeting reflect the fannish spirit. Many thanks to Madison and Hugo Jackson for modelling the shirts for us (photo by Rob Jackson).

You have your choice of a long-sleeved shirt on a navy background, or short-sleeved on a royal blue background. Many of the shirts sold during Corflu Cobalt itself, so sadly, not all sizes are available any more. Currently we have L, XL and XXL in the long-sleeved, and XL and XXL in the short-sleeved. Email cobalt@corflu.org to ask about availability before sending money. (A few people ordered online via the Virtual Consite during the convention itself; we have your shirts kept by for you on receipt of payment.)

Prices before postage are £10 for the short-sleeved and £15 for the long-sleeved shirts, whatever size. With postage (£1.00 in UK, or £4.00 airmail to USA) and conversion to dollars, this comes to £11 or £16 for short or long sleeved shirts respectively for UK purchasers, and $22 or $30 for short or long sleeved shirts respectively for US purchasers. From other countries please email for a quote.

Payments may be made by PayPal to cobaltreg@corflu.org, or by post to: Rob Jackson, Chinthay, Nightingale Lane, Hambrook, Chichester, W. Sussex PO18 8UH.
